

SERVICE CENTER FOR VETERANS TO BE ESTABLISHED

SEVENTY GROUPS REPRESENTED
AT ORGANIZATION MEET-ING WEDNESDAY

A meeting of the representatives of various organizations and groups of Putnam county which are planning to offer direct services to war veterans, was held in the Selective Service Office Wednesday evening. The chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Postwar Planning Committee made a report of the findings of that committee in regard to veterans assistance and suggested the formation of a county-wide veterans assistance program with the establishment of a central information and referral center.

Preliminary action was taken for the formation of the proposed program by the election of officers and adoption of the name of the Putnam County Veterans' Advisory Committee. The officers elected were: Harley E. Miller, chairman; Audrid E. Miller, vice chairman; Mrs. Simpson, secretary. The members of the board of directors: Edward R. Miller representing DePauw University, H. M. Heavin representing Farm Bureau, Ralph Fry representing Cloverdale Lions Club, George E. Miller representing Russellville Boosters Club, Howard Dean representing F. of L. and a representative of the Roachdale Lions Club.

The directors and officers were authorized to proceed with the organization of the Putnam County Veterans' Advisory Committee which will serve as the overall planning and co-ordinating committee for all the veterans service agencies and groups in the county. The Greenville Chamber of Commerce offered the use of its office and staff for the use of the service center. This offer was accepted and the center will be established in that office.

The officers of the Advisory Committee state that this organization will not duplicate the services of any established veterans service group but will act in a planning and co-ordinating capacity. The service center will assemble information as to the direct veterans services offered by the participating groups and will be able to refer the inquiring veteran to the proper agency or agencies that are equipped to render assistance or counseling in his particular problem.

The entire program is based on a sincere attempt to enable the returning veteran to reestablish himself in the community life without being handicapped by the changes occurring in civil life while he was away serving his country.

The groups represented at the meeting were: Russellville Boosters Club by Harry Ramsay and George E. Pitts; Russellville American Legion, by Franklin R. Jarvis; DePauw University, by Dean L. H. Dirks; Greenville American Legion, by Audrid E. Miller; Greenville Chamber of Commerce, by Frank Cannon and Miss Helen Black; Farm Bureau, by H. M. Heavin; A. F. of L. by Howard Dean; Selective Service, by Rex Boyd; Selective Service Re-Employment Committee, by John Vermillion.

The following organizations have been asked to cooperate and almost all have already appointed representatives and promised to cooperate: Bainbridge Lions Club, Roachdale Lions Club, Cloverdale Lions Club and American Legion, Red Cross, V. F. W., and Public Welfare.

The officers urge any group that has a definite direct service for veterans to inform the committee as it is its desire to have all interested groups participating in this program and they fear that some may have been unintentionally overlooked.

HIMMLER -- IS HE THE NEW HITLER? -- READS ORDERS

Heinrich Himmler, the Nazi Gestapo chief who is believed by many to have succeeded Adolf Hitler as "Fuehrer" in Germany, is shown in this radiophoto from Stockholm as he addressed a gathering in Munich November 12th when he read a proclamation said to have been issued by Hitler. Seated behind the "hangman" are Generals Von Keitel, Schwarz and Frick. (International Radiophoto).

Pair Still Held In County Jail

Sheriff Paul Grimes is still holding Mrs. Elbridge P. Dearing and her 12-year old brother, Eugene Johnson, pending word from government officials in connection with their admitted cashing of U. S. checks stolen from mail boxes in Indianapolis by the woman's husband. The latter was sentenced to prison this week on a second degree burglary charge for robbing the local Railway Express office.

A representative of the Treasury Department was here Wednesday afternoon questioning the two. It was thought that post office authorities would also investigate the case.

The sheriff received no word or instructions from either of these federal agencies Thursday and consequently Mrs. Elbridge and her brother were still "guests" of the county jail Friday morning.

GENERAL PREDICTS

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 17 (UP)—Brig. Gen. Percy J. Carroll, commanding officer of Vaughn General Hospital, predicted last night that American forces "will still be hammering at Germany's gates a year from today."

The Americans were blasting out a path for a forward drive. Man and beast shuddered in their tracks. Whole towns were disintegrating. Life seemed to disappear from the scene.

It was the most terrifying, destructive force of warfare Germany has ever seen. And it was a symbol of what was to come as the U. S. 1st Army unleashed this shattering blow within the borders of Germany.

For an hour and a half, more than 2,000 bombers and hundreds of guns pounded the German countryside, making the earth dance before this mighty man-made force.

When the heavies and mediums were not making the ground quake for miles around, our massed artillery was giving them hell out there. They were firing at an average rate of one round every 15 seconds, blasting every conceivable obstacle in our path. Mine fields went up as though touched off by an electric switch.

I had the feeling the end of the world was coming. So did the vivid red fox madly chasing its tail in no-man's land when the smoke had cleared. So did the mute cows, one of which dropped a calf from shock. And so did the plow horses. They emerged from shattered stables, charging about madly in a race to escape from their own torment.

In the center of that frightful scene, the Germans were entrenched in a "human wall." They were dug in foxholes and inside houses of "fortified towns." Many died without knowing what had hit them.

CONDITION UNCHANGED

The condition of Lawrence Long was reported as unchanged at the Putnam county hospital Friday morning. Mr. Long accidentally shot himself in the head while cleaning a revolver at his home on the Bloomington street road Wednesday afternoon and he was seriously wounded as a result.

4 Report For Armed Service

Four men left Greencastle Friday morning for induction into the armed forces under the National Selective Service Act. Raymond Elben Robinson, one of the group, is the fifth member of his family to be called to duty in World War II.

Others reporting, in addition to Robinson, were Noble Ray Clearwaters, James Joseph Baldwin, transfer from Carrollton, Ill., and John Harold Smith, transfer from Mishawaka.

United Press Writer Gives Impressions Of American Offensive On German Soil

By Henry T. Gorrell
ADVANCE OBSERVATION
POST, Inside Germany, Nov. 16.—(Delayed)—(UP)—A cataclysmic blast of exploding, splintering steel rent the earth before us and it seemed like the world was coming to an end.

The Americans were blasting out a path for a forward drive. Man and beast shuddered in their tracks. Whole towns were disintegrating. Life seemed to disappear from the scene.

It was the most terrifying, destructive force of warfare Germany has ever seen. And it was a symbol of what was to come as the U. S. 1st Army unleashed this shattering blow within the borders of Germany.

For an hour and a half, more than 2,000 bombers and hundreds of guns pounded the German countryside, making the earth dance before this mighty man-made force.

When the heavies and mediums were not making the ground quake for miles around, our massed artillery was giving them hell out there. They were firing at an average rate of one round every 15 seconds, blasting every conceivable obstacle in our path. Mine fields went up as though touched off by an electric switch.

I had the feeling the end of the world was coming. So did the vivid red fox madly chasing its tail in no-man's land when the smoke had cleared. So did the mute cows, one of which dropped a calf from shock. And so did the plow horses. They emerged from shattered stables, charging about madly in a race to escape from their own torment.

In the center of that frightful scene, the Germans were entrenched in a "human wall." They were dug in foxholes and inside houses of "fortified towns." Many died without knowing what had hit them.

Having seen brave men and wild beasts crack as they do sometimes in the grip of a terrible earthquake, I could have sworn there would be no opposition when the zero hour came.

Yet when our tanks and doughboys went over the top after the barrage, as in the battle of Verdun, there were Germans still alive and they fought us with violence.

They pumped their own shells and mortars frenziedly when they saw our tanks and infantry-laden half-tracks massing for the attack. But that fire didn't stop the Americans.

Straight into this valley of death they charged; straight into the place where a minefield had been; straight into the heart of what had been one of the toughest sectors in Adolf Hitler's reinforced defense line.

In barely a half hour after "H" hour, our tanks and infantry overran two German towns southeast of Aachen. They were towns which had been spared by heavy and medium bombers, but now were in flames from the dive-bombing P-38's.

The Americans didn't do it without loss, though. I saw three of our leading tanks knocked out in rapid order by a dug-in 88 ahead and I saw crewmen streak out in a hail of bursting German mortars.

More of our tanks were hit, but others kept going. When they bypassed a house ahead of us, doughboys went in and bagged a dozen prisoners. Six others streaked from the building as though they were being chased by the devil himself. One fell, clawing the earth, and others dropped to the ground in paralyzed terror.

Enemy mortar fire still was heavy, but our half-track ambulances flying the Red Cross flag kept pace with the tanks and infantry, treating the wounded on the battlefield. It was an inspiring sight and made one very proud to be an American.

Dr. Moser Elected To Oregon Senate

According to returns received from the election in Josephine county, Oregon, Dr. W. A. Moser, formerly a resident of this county, was elected to the State Senate by a majority of 408 votes over his Republican opponent, L. W. Wiperman, who had served in that office for the last two terms. Dr. Moser was the only Democrat to be elected to any office in the county as it is strongly a Republican county. Governor Dewey had a majority of over 800 and some others had more than 2,000 majorities.

Dr. Moser was born in Putnam county and lived here until about 15 years ago when he went to Oregon. He has several relatives and many friends in this county who will be glad to learn of his political success.

BOAKE CARTER, RADIO COMMENTATOR, DIES

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 17.—Boake Carter, writer and news commentator, died last night shortly after he was admitted to Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital.

Death was due to a cerebral hemorrhage, 12 hours after his daily radio broadcast.

He was 46 years old. Carter was a commentator with millions of friends and enemies. His ability to view domestic and foreign events from a neutral corner came from a direct result of experience. He had traveled widely and his adventures took him to the far corners of the world.

He was born in the British Consulate at South Baku, Russia, of Irish-English parents, educated in England, traveled in almost every country on the globe, spent several years in the newspaper business in the United States before he transferred his activities to the radio. In two nationwide polls he was voted the outstanding news commentator.

Carter served for a time in France as correspondent for the London Daily Mail. He worked for two years in the oil fields of Mexico.

NEW INVESTIGATOR TO AID IN ELECTION PROBE

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 17.—(UP)—Clifford B. Sutcliff was en route today from Washington to join the U. S. Senate investigating staff now probing charges of election day irregularities in Marion county.

Sutcliff joins Harold Buckles, chief investigator for the Senate Green committee on campaign expenditures, who arrived last week. Buckles said a third investigator might be assigned.

The investigation centers around charges that many voters were denied the right to cast ballots because their names unexplainably failed to appear on precinct registration lists.

YANKS MOPPING UP

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN PHILIPPINES, Nov. 17 (UP)—Tropical downpours slowed the American offensive on Leyte today, but other invasion troops 900 miles to the southeast completed the occupation of one of the principal Mapia islands off New Guinea and were mopping up enemy remnants on another.

SOVIET FORCES EXECUTE WIDE FLANKING DRIVE

MOVE THREATENING GERMAN TROOPS IN NORTHEAST-ERN HUNGARY

MOSCOW, Nov. 17.—(UP)—Soviet armored forces thrust to within 21 miles of the Danube river north of Budapest today in a wide flanking drive around the eastern side of the capital which also threatened to cut off enemy troops in northeastern Hungary.

The pincers attack on the strife-torn capital spearheaded the Soviet offensive along a 100-mile front stretching into northeastern Hungary, where Red Army troops rapidly were encircling Miskolc, the country's fifth city.

Near the center of the Hungarian front, two columns of Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's 2nd Ukrainian Army were converging on the big rail and highway junction of Hatvan, 22 miles northeast of Budapest.

At the same time another Russian force threatened the important communications center of Eger, 22 miles southwest of Miskolc. This unit was approaching Eger from Tard, 10 miles to the east, and apparently was attempting to cut the last rail escape route of the Germans and Hungarians in the Miskolc area.

In the encircling drive around Budapest, Malinovsky's forces established a 30-mile siege front through the capital's south and eastern outskirts. The line was anchored in the west at the Danube below Budapest and in the east at the village of Dany, which the Soviets captured to bring their forces only 21 miles from the river north of the capital.

The Russian troops also seized the Gyomro rail station, one mile north of the fortified village of Gyomro, one of the important German defense points 10 miles east of Budapest.

The Soviet forces at Dany were only 11 miles southwest of Hatvan and two other columns were moving steadily in a converging drive on the rail hub.

One group, pushing up the rail line from Jaszbereny, occupied Pusztaszer, nine miles southeast of Hatvan, while the other captured Vamosszabolcs, 10 miles east of the town, after a five mile advance from newly-conquered Jaszarokszallas.

Prisoners Tell Of Jap Treatment

LONDON, Nov. 16.—(UP)—War Minister Sir James Grigg told Commons today that at least one of every five British prisoners, captured in Singapore and Java, died under horrible conditions in Siam's jungles while constructing railroads for the Japanese.

His statement was based on information by prisoners who survived the sinking of a Japanese troop transport and subsequently reached Britain.

About 1,500 British empire prisoners were aboard the ship which left Singapore last September, Grigg said, but after the vessel sank the Japanese deliberately picked up only Japanese survivors, leaving the prisoners to their fate.

"I fear a great majority of them were drowned," the war minister said.

Men's Forum In Monthly Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Men's Forum, Christian church, was held Thursday evening in the social rooms of the church with Maurice Stapley, superintendent of schools, as the guest speaker.

Mr. Stapley spoke on the subject "Democracy in Our High Schools of Today." He introduced his talk by showing the trend toward democratic relations between administration and faculty, and faculty and curriculum. A most interesting point brought out by Superintendent Stapley was of the democratic method students use for governing themselves. He revealed in his talk a student council had recently been organized in our own high school. A discussion period followed the talk.

William Stiles, president, presided at the meeting. The house committee was Cecil Fellers, Harley Miller, and Dustin Stewart.

Slays 2 Women

OTTO S. WILSON, 33-year-old cook at Terminal Island, Cal., is shown at Los Angeles police station after confessing the mutilation killings of two women in downtown hotels. Wilson's victims, both found horribly hacked and dismembered, were Virgie Lee Griffin, 25, and Lillian Johnson, 40. An ex-pharmacist's mate in the Navy until his discharge in January, 1941, he said he killed the first because she wanted five dollars, and the other through "plain cussedness." (International)

ROCKET BOMB RAIDS ON U. S. ARE PREDICTED

NAZIS CONCENTRATING SUB-
MARINES AND SURFACE
SHIPS FOR ATTACKS

LONDON, Nov. 17.—(UP)—A Stockholm dispatch to the London Daily Mail said today that the Germans were concentrating submarines and surface ships equipped with robot bombs launching platforms in Norway preparatory to attempting raids on the United States.

The dispatch quoted "high neutral sources" as saying that the Germans planned to launch their jet-propelled V-1 robot bombs from the decks of the vessels "against such targets as New York, Philadelphia or towns farther inland."

A joint U. S. Army-Navy statement issued in Washington earlier this month warned that some such submarine or ship-based attacks might be attempted by a desperate Germany.

The Daily Mail dispatch said it was known "beyond dispute" that the Germans concentrated "very considerably" numbers of submarines and other vessels in harbors at Narvik, Trondheim and Bergen on the west coast of Norway.

Bergen was believed to be the German headquarters the dispatch said, with a crack submarine commander, formerly in charge of under-sea attacks on Allied shipping from bases at Brest and Lorient in France, assigned the task of directing the new offensive.

Large numbers of specially-trained submarine staff officers reached Norway recently, the dispatch added, while naval attaches returning to Berlin were quoted as saying:

"Look out for our new submarine offensives. They'll be super-offensives that will take everyone by surprise."

Though only a small number of submarines so far have been equipped to launch robot bombs, the dispatch said, the substantial number of missiles which they could fire would make the hazardous Trans-Atlantic voyage worthwhile.

The dispatch said the submarines and ships would operate a considerable distance offshore. The V-1 bombs used by the Germans against Britain were believed to have extreme range of 200 to 250 miles, but this could be increased by enlarging the fuel capacity. They carry a ton of explosives.

ALLIED OFFENSIVE GAINS MOMENTUM ON WESTERN FRONT

YANK 1ST AND 9TH ARMIES
SPEARHEADING HUGE
ATTACK ON NAZIS

PARIS, Nov. 17.—(UP)—The American 1st and 9th Armies, spearheading 1,500,000 allied troops in a supreme offensive to crush Germany, smashed on through burning villages on a 20-mile front inside the Reich today toward Dusseldorf, Cologne, and the Rhine.

The two American armies in the north-central sector of the 400-mile offensive front already had overrun a dozen or more towns and hamlets as much as seven miles inside the Reich in advances of up to two miles in the first 12 hours of their attack.

To the north, the British 2nd Army in southeast Holland hurled the German back across the Maas river along a six-mile front, capturing Buggenum and Wessen on the west bank and pushing to within a mile of the east bank fortress of Roermond.

British vanguards were within three and a half miles of the German border and long-tom artillery, along with medium guns, already were shelling enemy strong points inside the Reich. Rooftops of German towns were clearly visible.

South of the Cologne-Dusseldorf front, the American 3rd Army sent patrols into the southern outskirts of Metz, strongest German bastion in eastern France, but stiffening enemy resistance indicated that the fortress would fall only after days of bloody fighting.

German prisoners reported that the garrison, fighting with the guns of Gestapo and SS Elite Guards at their backs, was throwing up sandbags and barbed wire barricades at street corners and between hours for a last-pitch battle.

TIME WILL TELL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(UP)—Diplomatic observers, carefully studying Russian criticism of Japan, said today the next five months will be the "fateful period" for the Russo-Japanese neutrality pact and may indicate whether Russia plans to join her allies in the Pacific war.

Under terms of the pact, it was pointed out, Russia has only five more months to decide whether to denounce the agreement, or by refusing to do so, to permit it to be automatically prolonged until April 25, 1951.

Coroner Probes Shooting Case

BEDFORD, Ind., Nov. 17.—(UP)—Dr. R. E. Wynne, Lawrence county coroner, conducted an inquest today into the fatal shooting of 12-year-old Robert Terry, whose body was recovered from a shallow, leaf-covered grave in Dunn woods yesterday.

Police Chief Clarence May said that James O'Neil, 12, companion of the Terry lad, told a bizarre tale of loading the body in a coaster wagon and burying both in the woods after accidentally shooting his friend in the head with a .30 caliber army rifle owned by his foster father, George O'Neil.

May said that the two and some other boys were playing at the O'Neil home when the gun was fired. The other youngsters fled after the shooting and O'Neil said that he took the body away because he was frightened. Another of the boys later reported the shooting to police and O'Neil led officers to the spot where he had concealed the body of his friend.

TO A Christmas Shopper

The time has come, we merchants say,
To talk of Christmas stuff - -
Of handkerchiefs, and hose and robes,
And trousers with a cuff.

Before we dust off adjectives
And deck our ads in cheer,
We think you really ought to know
What's going on this year.

Priorities and scarcities
Have all stores in a "fizzy"
And getting Christmas orders in
For months has kept us busy.

We've never bought so heavily
So FAR ahead of time-----
To tell you that is mainly
The reason for this rhyme.

Our shelves and stockrooms bulge
With Christmas loot galore
And if you don't believe us
Drop in and see our store.

We haven't raised our prices yet,
And won't until we must - - -
But take our tips on values:
Be the one who gets here "fust".

To find distinctive "gifts he'll love"
To miss the hurly burly - - -

REMOVE LIVE SHELL FROM YANK

LUCKY TO BE ALIVE, Pvt. Jackie Miles of Tompkinsville, Ky., inspects the 20-mm. shell which went through his body and lodged in his chest but miraculously did not explode. Medical officers removed it in a field hospital on Leyte, despite the risk of it blowing up and killing all of them. (International Soundphoto)

Tiger Cubs Host To Shelbyville Bears; DePauw Ends Grid Campaign Tomorrow

Local sport fans have a busy week-end in prospect with Greencastle's Tiger Cubs scheduled to meet the Shelbyville high school basketball team on the home court tonight at 8 o'clock. Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, DePauw's football squad concludes its 1944 grid season with the strong Miami eleven providing the opposition at Blackstock Stadium.

Out in the county this evening Roachdale and Bainbridge, two traditional Putnam net rivals, will fight it out up at Bainbridge. Eminence leaves its home precinct to battle the Clevers on the Cloverdale floor. In a curtain raiser to the main attraction at the Greencastle gym tonight, the Reelsville varsity tangles with Coach Fred Fechtman's reserves.

Shelbyville, boasting another strong quintet and with an overtime victory over Greenfield already chalked up, comes here determined to make it two straight. On the other hand, the Tiger Cubs, smarting under their 31-27 setback down Bloomington way last Friday, plan to get into the win column in this encounter, their second of the 1944-45 campaign.

Coach Gaumy Neal's Tigers, with two consecutive victories, hope to upset the dope and knock the Ohio gridders for a loop Saturday. Early in the season, DePauw bowed to Miami by a 12-0 count, which, incidentally is the best showing any of the Redskins' opponents have turned in this fall. Neal is making no predictions only that his Old Gold charges will do their very best to conclude their schedule in a blaze of glory.
